Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Wednesday 03 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly cloudy, showers later on Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
A few clear intervals giving a touch of frost in places, mainly in the northwest. Otherwise, a mainly dry and cloudy night. Light northeasterly winds. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Thursday:
A mainly dry and cloudy day with bright intervals. A band of showers will spread southwards during late afternoon and evening. Light easterly winds. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Some frost at first then dry with sunny spells on Friday. Dry for most of Saturday but some rain later. Patchy rain on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.